

STARS WARNED

LAY OFF THE LIP FILLERS

These celebs are flaunting plumper pouts – but surgeons say they’ve gone too far

‘AMY HAS HAD TOO MUCH FILLER’

Amy Childs claimed last year that she didn’t want any more cosmetic surgery, saying it made her look like “a freak”. But the 25-year-old former TOWIE star clearly hasn’t given it up as she was spotted with very plumped up lips and a fuller face last week.

Fans were quick to comment, with one posting, “Her face is a joke and what’s up with those lips? Horrible to look at.” Another added, “Looks like her face has melted!” While a third said, “Her lips look wonky, what has she done?”

Consultant cosmetic surgeon

Mr Miles Berry (cosmetic surgery-partners.co.uk) believes Amy has gone too far.

“In my opinion, Amy has had far too much filler as her face has become distorted,” he tells Star. “This could become permanent due to chronic stretching. The most popular filler to use is hyaluronic acid, but this can have side effects such as nerve damage and tissue death.”

Plastic surgeon Mr Sultan Hassan (elitesurgical.co.uk) agrees. “The ideal ratio of filler in each lip has not been respected by the injector, resulting in the overfilled appearance,” he says. “Side effects can include lumpiness, infection, bruising, bleeding and poor shape.”

Mr Hassan also thinks Amy may have had work done on her nose. “Clearly she has also had surgical rhinoplasty [a nose job] at some point,” he insists. ■

‘ABBEY’S MOUTH IS NOW OUT OF PROPORTION’

Model Abbey Clancy, 30, is known for her looks, but our experts say the mum-of-two has enhanced them. Mr Berry says, “Abbey’s lips appear fuller, which is highlighted by her gaunt face. She’s likely to have had filler.”

Cosmetic surgeon Dr Sach Mohan (reverseclinics.com) agrees. “The giveaway is that the top lip should be about a third smaller than the bottom one,” he says.

“Abbey’s proportions are now incorrect as both are the same. The volume in the bottom lip should taper to the corners of the mouth, but hers have a rather unnatural appearance as too much filler has been injected in the sides.”

Online trolls agree. “Still lying about not having her lips done!” one posted, with another adding, “Those fake lips are horrid.” ■

‘DANIELLE HAS A DUCK POUT’

Danielle Lloyd recently admitted to Star, “I have had Botox but that’s as far as I would go.” And she says she now approaches cosmetic surgery with caution after a botched boob job nearly killed her.

However, our experts believe the 32-year-old has dabbled in more than Botox. “This is an example of too much lip filler increasing the tension within the lips,” says Dr Mohan. “A mild trout pout is now visible that would affect her ability to pucker up!”

Mr Berry agrees she’s had fillers. “The most striking thing is the lower part of Danielle’s face has got wider,” he says.

“Filler in the lips and the sides of the jawbone could give this effect. Danielle’s chin also appears squarer, so she may have had an implant too.”

Followers were shocked at her appearance, with one writing, “She doesn’t look chic with those fake duck lips!” Another added, “What’s happened to her mouth?” ■

‘LUCY’S LIPS LOOK DISTORTED NOW’

Former TOWIE star Lucy Mecklenburgh hit out at rumours she’d had work done last year, saying, “I can confirm I have had NO surgery on my face or body!”

However, the 24-year-old’s recent appearance has raised the question of whether she’s had a change of heart, as her lips appear fuller.

One fan commented, “She had tiny little thin lips – now they are huge. How on earth do they expand them like that? I know they use fillers etc, but surely not even fillers can enlarge them so much?” Another chimed in, adding, “Fake smile.”

Mr Hassan says, “Lucy has definitely had fillers in her upper and lower lips. It’s possible she’s also had fillers in her nose-to-mouth lines as well.”

And Lucy may have had filler in more than just her lips, says Mr Berry.

“Her jaw may be wider, so the use of filler here and over the cheekbones is also a possibility,” he explains. ■

‘PERRIE LOOKS FAKE’

Perrie Edwards looks very different from her early days as a fresh-faced teen on The X Factor. Fans have been quick to point out that the 22-year-old’s lips look much bigger. One tweeted, “What is up with those lips?” while another cheekily added, “And the fakers gonna fake fake fake.”

Dr Mohan says, “This is a difficult one to assess, as lots of rumours have persisted as to whether or not she’s had fillers. If she has, they are perfect in form, shape and proportion. A perfect example of what lip fillers should be.”

Mr Hassan believes Perrie has had help. “Perrie may have had dermal fillers to her upper and lower lips and in the nose-to-mouth lines,” he says. ■
